Recent rains damage farmlands in Bulloch

By E. T. "Red" MULLIS
Soil Conservation Soil

Recent heavy rains have caused hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of damage to farmland, roads, bridges, crops, and other structures in Bulloch County. What makes this loss so bad is that much of it could be prevented.

Cooperators of the Georgia River Soil Conservation District are showing the way toward a system of controlling flood waters with properly installed and maintained terraces, waterways, ponds, drainage ditches, pastures, trees, field borders, etc. However, many District Cooperators overlook the most important part of a water disposal system, and that is proper maintenance.

Let's take terraces first. I have seen excellent terraces constructed and have blotted out to the extent that plowing and driving across outlets render them useless for proper runoff of flood water. A terrace cannot perform its proper function if the outlets are not kept open. A terrace is no stronger than its outlet. I know we all get so busy sometimes that we neglect to go back and open the outlets until it's too late. What is the answer to this situation? Someone tell me if he knows.

On the other hand, I am greatly encouraged by many of our cooperators who love the land enough to properly care for it. I would like to use John Hunnicutt as an example of these truly soil conservation farmers. John owns a nice farm southeast of Highway 80. He and others have told me that when he first bought the farm, there were deep gullies through the field which were almost impossible to cross. He had the land terraced and has blotted out these scars over the years.

Bulloch County grower reports best insect control he ever had with a season-long endrin-methyl parathion program

John Cromley, Brooklet, Georgia says, "I stuck with endrin-methyl parathion right through the season last year and got excellent cotton insect control. In fact, it was the best control I have ever had. I certainly plan to use this endrin-methyl parathion mixture from now on."

Long-lasting control

Endrin's long lasting power keeps your cotton protected for many days. You make fewer applications. And, regular endrin-methyl parathion applications discourage mite build-up.

Stay on schedule

If you want to pick high yields of top quality cotton, use endrin-methyl parathion. Follow the dosage and timing recommendations of local authorities.

Endrin-methyl parathion combinations are available as easy-to-use liquids and dusts. Order yours today.

Reilly and Jack Hanna tell it better than we can

"Aldrin fertilizer mix gave us complete insect control this season. We treated for wireworms, rootworms, white grubs, mole crickets and other soil insects. We also got a bonus in really good crop yield."

"We could actually tell to the row where our aldrin fertilizer mix treatment ended. The aldrin-treated peanuts had graded zero damage and yielded 2,500 pounds of peanuts per acre. The untreated peanuts had up to 5% damage and yielded 1,234 pounds—a difference of 1,266 pounds per acre."

"From the results we've gotten this year, you can be sure we'll continue to use aldrin from now on."

GSC Alumni plan chapel for campus

William C. Fordham, president of the Georgia Southern College Alumni Association and principal of the Swainsboro High School, announced plans today for a fund-raising campaign to erect a chapel on the Georgia Southern campus.

Funds received for the structure will be handled by the Georgia Southern College Chapel Fund, a chartered corporation.

According to Fordham, the amount needed for construction of the chapel is approximately $80,000. The Alumni Association plans to make a direct appeal to every member of the Association during this year and the two succeeding years 1962-1963 asking for donations to the fund.

The chapel will be inter-denominational, providing facilities to accommodate the religious faiths of all Georgia Southern students.

In commenting on the proposed chapel, Georgia Southern President, Zach S. Henderson, said:

"Our college has prided itself all through years on the wholesome religious atmosphere that has been part of the campus life and a positive carry-over in the lives of Georgia Southern students. Now, more than ever before, it is felt that religion should continue to have a place in the lives of our students."

"With the rapid increase in students and the expanding college facilities, the school is experiencing a definite need now for accommodations devoted solely to the student religious and cultural as well as the farm and rancher, because only two acres of the importance of the land to the future well being of the Nation."

"For many years I have been familiar with the conservation programs being carried out by soil conservation districts, and in watershed projects, and would urge citizens everywhere to join them in this special effort to express a preference for the guidance of the selection committee."

GSC Alumni plan chapel for campus

William C. Fordham, president of the Georgia Southern College Alumni Association and principal of the Swainsboro High School, announced plans today for a fund-raising campaign to erect a chapel on the Georgia Southern campus.

Funds received for the structure will be handled by the Georgia Southern College Chapel Fund, a chartered corporation.

According to Fordham, the amount needed for construction of the chapel is approximately $80,000. The Alumni Association plans to make a direct appeal to every member of the Association during this year and the two succeeding years 1962-1963 asking for donations to the fund.

The chapel will be inter-denominational, providing facilities to accommodate the religious faiths of all Georgia Southern students.

In commenting on the proposed chapel, Georgia Southern President, Zach S. Henderson, said:

"Our college has prided itself all through years on the wholesome religious atmosphere that has been part of the campus life and a positive carry-over in the lives of Georgia Southern students. Now, more than ever before, it is felt that religion should continue to have a place in the lives of our students."

"With the rapid increase in students and the expanding college facilities, the school is experiencing a definite need now for accommodations devoted solely to the student religious and cultural as well as the farm and rancher, because only two acres of the importance of the land to the future well being of the Nation."

"For many years I have been familiar with the conservation programs being carried out by soil conservation districts, and in watershed projects, and would urge citizens everywhere to join them in this special effort to express a preference for the guidance of the selection committee."

Bulloch's tax equalization program now in final stages

Bulloch County property owners in the 44th (Sinkhole) and the 45th (Register) militia districts received notices on Saturday of last week from the Bulloch County Board of Tax Equalizers informing them of the new evaluation assigned to their property for 1961 tax purposes as determined under the county's new tax equalization program. The notices were mailed out on Friday, April 28.

As of Tuesday afternoon of this week the indication is that property owners seem to be satisfied. Only about a dozen appeared before the Board of Tax Equalizers and most of those appeared because they did not fully understand the notice.

Tomorrow notices will be mailed to property owners in the 46th (Lockhart) militia district and the 1716th (Portia) militia district.

By May 10 notices will be mailed to property owners in the 1803rd (Neville, 1547th (Bilch) and 1540th (Bay) districts.

On May 15 notices will be mailed to property owners in the 48th (Iagan) and 1750th (Emitt) districts.

On May 19 notices will be mailed to property owners in the 49th (Brooklet) and 1523rd (Brooklet) districts.

No date has been set for mailing out the notices to property owners in the 1209th (Statesboro) district.

When the mailing procedure is completed approximately 5,500 property owners in the county will have been notified of the new evaluation which has been assigned to their property.

This program on tax equalization in the county began with the community leaders in each of the twelve militia districts in the county. Over the months following their organization

Soil Stewardship Week is May 7-14

By E. T. "Red" MULLIS
Soil Conservation Service

Plans for observance of Soil Stewardship week have been completed, and much interest is expected to be developed in this observance.

The Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District, with assistance from the Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service, Farmers Home Administration, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, Georgia Forestry Department, Vocational Agriculture Departments, Farm Bureau and Rural Electrification, developed plans of Soil Stewardship Week. These plans have been presented to the Board of Tax Equalizers, the only legally constituted body of Bulloch County to make tax assessments.

The Tax Board of Equalizers is in session and is working in the jury room on the north side of the courtroom on the second floor of the county courthouse.

The notices they are now sending out read as follows:

"Soil Stewardship Week is a national observance of all Georgia County real estate will be appraised uniformly, according to true values in each county."

"Your real estate has been appraised at $ The tax value is 30 percent of appraised value, which is $ less homestead exemptions. The millage will be reduced, and set at If you

The Creed of the Soil Conservationist

About once a year we pull down from our book shelf a book carrying the title, "Conserving Soil Resources," with the subtitle of "A Guide to Better Living," published by the Turner E. Smith Company of Atlanta, whose guiding hand is Mrs. Lelia Bunce Turner, a native of Bulloch County.

This is that time of the year. And it's prompted by the people in our country who are concerned with the stewardship of our soil and use "Soil Stewardship Week" as a means of focusing attention on the importance of good soil conserving practices.

We like a thing in the book written by C. W. Gee, titled "The Creed of the Soil Conservationist" and it spells out better than anything we've read our responsibility to our soil. Here it is:

CREED OF THE SOIL CONSERVATIONIST

"As a soil conservationist, I believe God created the earth by His divine processes for the benefit of man, not one man, nor one generation, but mankind for all time.

"I believe the Almighty gave man an inheritance of the earth, not to be hoarded as a miser guards his treasure, but to be used with wisdom and in the fullest for the perpetual benefit of all men.

"I believe all mankind, regardless of race, or creed, are entitled to a fair and equitable share of the earth's bounty commensurate with their own efforts. But in so believing, I hold the irrevocable conviction that man himself owes earth a debt of respect and fealty.

"I believe that whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap; that he who manages his fields, pastures, woodlands, and streams with respect and wisdom shall reap the bountiful harvest and so shall his descendants, while he who uses selfishly, thinking only of his own immediate gain, shall bring to grief his land, himself, and his children's children.

"Holding these beliefs to be true I dedicate myself to the task of helping my fellow - men realize their own personal responsibility in conserving the earth for the generations which follow them. To this end I shall devote my best knowledge in guiding the efforts of those who till the soil so that the land which nurtures us shall be fruitful without end.

"For truly, the earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, but the responsibility for its stewardship is vested in man."

Holding to these precepts is another of the pillars in the firm foundation of Bulloch County's greatness.

We can't relax!

'Twon't be long before school will be out and youngsters will be swarming all over the place. Kids riding bikes, Small fry on their way to and from the swimming pool. Children finding pleasures in running up and down sidewalks and crossing streets.

And they're our children and the responsibility for their safety becomes heavier upon us all during the summer months.

So we must be on a constant lookout for these children in our community. Children will take chances and at best their actions are unpredictable and unexpected.

Their safety while outdoors is in our hands and hearts and minds as we drive our cars about the city of Statesboro.

We can't relax!

Beware the phonies

Spring is here in all its glory. But there's another side of spring which gives homeowners a fit-flying ants which are termites "for sure," if you believe the "fly-by-night" pest control operators who swarm communities about this time of year.

If you have a sneaking idea you have termites—call a local pest control operator with professional training and adequate equipment. DON'T deal with a stranger, a self-styled pest control expert traveling around the country selling pest control protection.

Homeowners needing pest control protection DO business with reputable, licensed pest control companies having permanent business addresses. Check your telephone directory, or ask your neighbor or a friend. You'll find plenty of people who have had experience with them and they'll steer you right.

But, beware of the itinerant pest control operator. He'll stick you for sure.

Dear Leodel,

I just received my notice of renewal and also the March 16 copy of the Herald. I was beginning to wonder about the expiration of my subscription. The Herald as usual was read from front to back. Sometimes I read it from back to front in the manner prescribed by the local customs, anyway it is read, it makes good reading.

I was extremely proud of the excellent mark or grade the SIS Band obtained in competition, and am sending a donation to "Boost the Band." Can you deliver it to the persons

I, along with all of you are proud of the work Max has done with the young people. A pity the same thing cannot be accomplished all over. It is out of the question to plan for the children in this country. They are out working when they are seven or younger. There is no garbage disposal in China, because young children are just waiting for it to be dumped in the can, so they can salvage it. Every scrap of paper is saved and utilized. A dioxin bottle sells for $3.00. (NT). Absolutely nothing is wasted.

It seems to me...

IT WAS A SERIOUS young man who stopped me on the street and he had something serious and important on his mind. He was looking to me as the Director of Civil Defense for Statesboro and Bulloch County and he had a request.

This young man had listened to a disturbed President of the United States, now popularly called JFK, just a few days before when he spelled out to the people of America the perils of our times. Mr. Kennedy said plain and simply that we are in a struggle for survival, and as self government, or it will live under Communism and dictatorship.

LOUIS HARRIS, editor of the Augusta Chronicle and one of the best thinkers of our times, stated a fact in his Sunday column in that newspaper that so many of us have never even thought about. He brought to light a very important and little thought about situation in government which has been of little concern to our nation's leaders. Mr. Harris pointed out that most of the men now making decisions in government are not men who have been elected by the people, nor are they for the most part men who have been selected by the Kennedy administration. Indeed, it would be hard to determine just who did select these people. At any rate, they are the same people who guided the policy announcements made by the department heads which led to our loss of China, our loss of Korea, our loss of face in Japan, our loss of face in South America and it looks like we lead to our failure in Laos, in all of Africa and in Cuba.

It seems to me that the time is now, as was so suggested by Mr. Harris, that these people be ferreted out of government and perhaps loaned to the Soviet government as advisors since most of their advice seems to be all bad.

THE SAD TRUTH is, we are losing the world. We are running second in the battle for the world. The decisions must be made which may be costly to us in suffering and money. We must stop playing games and build a family budget. We must stop draining our resources to pay the bills for the do-nothing United Nations. We must have a roll call of those nations who would actively stand against us. Either we believe in the principles for which our nation stands and fight for them, or we must humbly bow our heads to our conquerors and beg for our survival.

Thru the P's of Virginia Russell

WHEN THE news came recently about the attempted rebellion against Castro's government in Cuba, many a heart in America sank low.

Twenty years ago this coming December many of us remember what a beautiful Sunday afternoon that day of all days, was when Pearl Harbor was attacked.

It seems that our last twenty years would rival some of the New Testament's wars and rumors of wars.

Realizing that war is so near to our own shores is a frightening thought. Those of us who were very young and parents of little children twenty years ago, also remember a warm day later in the war when the radio screamed out the news that the first atom bomb had been dropped on a Japanese city. Since that faithful day, people of the world have feared an all out atomic war, yet we seem unable to prevent it.

THE FORMER PRESIDENT of the General Assembly of the United Nations, Mr. Charles Malik, has written to the American citizens that he believes each needs to do to awaken ourselves as our citizens. He writes in answer to questions from Americans like this, "... if our political system is the best, if our values are superior values... why then, are we in difficulty, even in retreat?"

Mr. Malik believes that the two great sources of leadership in the Western world, the church and the government, have not been living up to their responsibilities. He goes on to say,

"THE CHURCH has always been the keeper of men's conscience, the guardian of men's beliefs, the guardian of men's morals. If the people grew selfish, or materialistic or lazy, it is the duty of the church to point an accusing finger, to insist on drastic and immediate change. This the church has not been doing, not with the indignation, eloquence and authority that are needed. And so we have fallen into sin—the sin of materialism, of selfishness, of lust, and of sloth."

As signs of these sins Mr. Malik names the cheap and vicious sex-trash found on the newsstands, the violence and sadism on television and in the movies, the prevalence of payola, classroom cheating and juvenile crime.

Let us pray that we can bring about a quick change in our nation. May we be able to prevent a war in our own land!

All of us are enjoying this tour a lot. My girls attend a Chinese/English school, and can speak Chinese as a second language. In fact they prefer Chinese because it is so much easier than English. No past or future time to trouble them. Of course the Chinese writing is a different story. It looks like a chicken walked through on white paper. My wife and I attend the University of Maryland Far East College. We had to take Chinese to find out what the girls were talking about.

I have reason to believe my Herald is read by everyone between China and the USA. Sometimes it is so dog-eared and worn I cannot decipher it. Could you wrap some sort of protective cover around it, prior mailing it?

I especially enjoy the pictures in the Herald because it shows the Beautiful State of Georgia at its best.

Eggs are a natural body builder for children. They are high in protein, minerals, and vitamins, says R. A. Gayvert, Extension poultry marketing specialist.

Planters should be operated by hand to determine if rust is causing gears to bind, says W. E. Huston, Extension agricultural engineer.

A package often costs more than the food it protects, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

AFTERNOON TEA
On Saturday Miss Woodcock was the central figure at an afternoon tea at the lovely home of Mrs. Bartow Lamb on 1st Road. Hostesses with Mrs. Lamb were Mrs. Percy Bland and Mrs. Jack Pitman of Savannah.

Amazillis, roses and African violets combined in artistic decorations. The theme, "Live With Wings," was carried out in decorations and ritual.

The T-shaped table was decorated with lovely yellow roses rising from white styrofoam against three tall yellow candles. The place cards were in white and gold inscribed with "Live With Wings."

Peggy Herrington at the piano, accompanied the group as they sang "Sisters in Beta Sigma Phi" and "Live With Wings," followed by the Beta Sigma Phi ritual in unison. Helen Yeager gave the sorority Grace.

Willette Woodcock

brided parties

Miss Willette Woodcock of Atlanta and Statesboro, a popular bride-elect of mid-summer, is being honored here at her brief weekend visits with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Woodcock.

On Saturday Mrs. Walter Aldred Jr., Mrs. Henry Blitch, Mrs. Fred Blitch and Mrs. Talmadge Ramsey were hostesses at a luncheon at Mrs. Aldred's home, Biddle Hill.

Lovely roses, in massive and stylized arrangements, decorated the home. The centerpiece of the exquisitely appointed table was an arrangement of pink Van Fleet roses.

Seated at the table with the honor guest were her mother, Mrs. Wilburn Woodcock, Mrs. Fred Page, Mrs. Jimmy Blitch, Mrs. Zack Smith, Mrs. Bobby Smith, Miss Dorothy Brannen, Mrs. Henry Ellis, Mrs. Jim Davidson, Mrs. Joe P. Johnston and Mrs. Jack Pitman. The hostesses and Mrs. R. J. Kennedy Jr. were at a smaller table.

The hostesses presented the honoree a dinner plate in her chosen China. Willette was lovely in a beige silk shantung costume with matching jacket, trimmed in black braid. Her hat was a beige straw with black velvet trim. Her bag and shoes were black patent leather.

Engagement of Donnie Roslyn Powell announced

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Powell announce the engagement of their daughter, Donnie Roslyn Powell, to Walter Vernon Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Street of Statesboro, Georgia.

Miss Powell is a graduate of Statesboro High School and attended Southern Business University in Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. Street is presently employed in construction work.

The wedding will be an event of July 9, in the Calvary Baptist Church.

Donnie Roslyn Powell is a prominent club woman, who spoke on "Great Women of Different Eras" — who virtually lived with wings.

The "Girl of the Year" Award was presented by Velma Rose to Bonnie Herring for Xi Sigma; for this and previous years, Imogene Sikes presented loving cups to previous Girls of the Year who were Velma Rose and Donna Lee. The Alpha Omega chapter presented the "Girl of the Year Award" to Mary Jane Powell. She was also presented a Girl of the Year charm for her Beta Sigma bracelet.

The closing ritual was presented by Mary Ann Brown. Thirty-five members attended the banquet.

IN MEMORIAM
In sad but loving memory of our father who passed away on May 1, 1960.

Though his smiles are gone forever, And hands I cannot touch, I shall never lose sweet memories, Of the one I loved so much. The flowers we placed upon his grave, may wither and decay, But the love of my dear daddy will never fade away. Wife, children, and grandchildren

When sewing, facing should be clipped and understitched to lie flat, says Miss Peggy Ott, Extension clothing specialist.

Eggs are not fattening—they are a safe guard against lower resistance and vitality for the person following a reducing diet, reports R. A. Gayvert, Extension poultry marketing specialist.

C. J. Mathews,
Francis Allen at Tech-Ga. meet

Georgia Tech, the University of Georgia, and Georgia business and industry have a vital stake in the state's phenomenal economic growth, the presidents of both schools told a group of the state's leading business and professional men meeting in Atlanta this week.

Charlie J. Mathews, who is serving as co-chairman with Francis W. Allen of the Joint Tech - Georgia Development Fund this year, represented Statesboro at this evening conference on April 25.

Dr. O. Aderhold, president of the University of Georgia, and Dr. Edwin Harrison, president of Georgia Tech, spoke at a dinner meeting of the 1961 Joint Tech - Georgia Development Fund attended by some 25 campaign chairmen from 12 Georgia cities, including the state chairman, Charles Simons of Gainesville and Howell Holloman of Statesboro. The fund has been assigned the important mission of giving strong financial aid to help attract and keep top-level faculty in our universities.

The Joint Fund's primary purpose is to secure corporate support to "supplement" the state's financial aid to help attract and keep top-level faculty in our universities.

The fund has already, through contributions from business and industry within the state, poured over $1 million into teaching salaries at the two schools. In 1960 it raised $280,000. This year its goal is $325,000. By 1965 it hopes to reach the mark of a half-million annually.

Hundreds of the state's outstanding business and professional men have worked as volunteers in this project, and contributions have been received from over 600 business and industrial firms.

The significance of the Joint Fund's contributions to teaching salaries at the University of Georgia alone, Dr. Aderhold revealed, can be illustrated by simply but dramatically. In 1950 the University had a faculty turnover of 23 per cent; this figure has dropped within the past two years to approximately 7 per cent.

The quality of teaching in all areas, instructional research, search, depends on competent,
imaginative, qualified teachers.
Dr. Aderhold explained. He pointed out further that the results of this scholarship fund are incalculable.

Because it has been able through such programs as the Joint Fund, to attract and hold such a faculty," Dr. Aderhold said, "the University has been qualified to receive from foundations and other outside sources over $1 million for use in building up our physical facilities."

Dr. Aderhold also pointed out that the results of this scholarship fund are incalculable.

Ga. Y commends Statesboro Y clubs

According to Mr. Bob Henderson, Southeast District Secretary of the Georgia Young Men's Christian Association, the 1961 Joint Fund campaign, also attended by the Y clubs of Georgia has jumped 52 per cent in six years in per capita income. Dr. Harrison quoted from a current Department of Labor report.

A rising economy can contribute to rise "only as long as educational institutions can continue to produce competent qualified individuals to fill the personnel needs of business and industry," Dr. Harrison pointed out.

"Tech and the University of Georgia have as their primary mission the preparation of young people who will perform important functions in the business and professional world of today and tomorrow," Dr. Ader-hold pledged.

HERMAN TALMADGE Reports From WASHINGTON

774-1250

NOW THAT THE stalemate in nuclear weapons has made all-out war less likely, the Communists are placing increasing emphasis on achieving their goal of world domination through subversion.

There have been many recent indications of a calculated shift away from the Lenin doctrine of inevitability of armed conflict between Communism and Capitalism.

A published preview of the radical new Communist Party Constitution to be proposed this fall sets forth what it terms the "scientific principle of peaceful transition."

Nikita Khrushchev declared in a speech last January that "war is not needed for the victory" which he maintained "is no longer far off."

The Russian Dictator contended this side would win through "the policy of peaceful coexistence," the development of "peace fronts throughout the world," and contributions to "the success of the national liberation movement."

Such a program is envisioned in the bill to create a Freedom Academy to teach key people from throughout the Free World how to recognize and cope with all the tricks of Communist subversion.

This measure, which passed the Senate but was not acted upon in the House last year, has the support of both conservatives and liberals.

Its enactment would be a well-spent investment in insurance against diminishing returns from the billions we are spending to protect ourselves from Communist conquest.

FARM BRIEFS

Bread has one of the highest marketing margins. The farmer gets less than three cents for a 20-cent loaf of bread.

Remove all oily stains before washing acetate, suggests Miss Leonora Anderson, head of the Extension clothing department.

WONDERFUL DAY*

SUDDEN SHOWERS? Who cares! The laundry still gets done. With an automatic electric clothes dryer you can dial sunlike radiant heat any time you want it.

No more lifting heavy baskets of wet clothes. No more stooping and stretching at the clothesline. New leisure time comes automatically!

Electricity adds so much fun to life and so little expense to the household budget. No wonder the average home we serve is using nearly three times as much electricity as it did 20 years ago.

BUILDING A BETTER BULLOCH COUNTY

The Homes

WHAT MAKES Bulloch County the great county we all know it to be?

Would you say its fertile fields?
Its fine churches?
Its schools?
Its college?
Its splendid forests?
Its facilities for recreation?
Its banks?
Its stores?
Its tobacco market?
Its growing industry?

Of course you would say: "Yes these are all evidence of our greatness."

But, all these alone do not constitute our county's greatness or make it great.

The true greatness of our county is its homes; the unity of man and woman in the home. The true greatness of any county, state and nation is based upon the homes in it. The home is the foundation of our greatness and from it issues the real strength of our community.

The home is the castle of the average man. The dweller there—be he humble or otherwise—one who loves his home, his family, his country—these are they who make a county great. A community filled with homes—the homes of the average family, where children are taught to reverence God and respect the laws of their country—this and this alone, makes Bulloch County truly great.

* * *

IN STATESBORO and Bulloch County there are more than 5,000 homes. Most of these house families who subscribe to these principals which make for greatness.

Most of these home display evidence of pride in ownership—well kept yards, with flowers and shrubs blooming in season; buildings in good state of repair; housewives, active in home demonstration clubs and home improvement projects; children, active in 4-H and FFA and FHA activities; fathers, active in Farm Bureau and civic affairs; families, worshipping together on the Sabbath.

These are the things which make these homes a home.

And the home is the firm foundation of all our claims to greatness.

Let's keep it that way.

MEMBERS OF THE GEORGIA SOUTHERN MASQUERS are in very serious rehearsal for their forthcoming spring quarter production of "See How They Run" to be presented on the GSC campus May 4 and 5. Left to right are: Ebbelyn McMillan, Bonnie Ringwald, Claude Astin, Sue Ellis, Jim Fields, and Frank Chew. According to the director, Robert Overstreet, the many cases of mistaken identity in this play will make it a riot.

Spring Production Of Masquers Is May 4-5 at Millen

The Georgia Southern Masquers, under the direction of Robert Overstreet, will present "See How They Run" in McCreary Auditorium May 4-5, at 8:15 p.m.

Set in Merton-cum-Middlewick, England. See How They Run is a particularly fine farce by Philip King. It is an exaggerated case of mistaken identity. "Usually one mistaken identity is enough for comedy, but several in 'See How They Run' create a riot," Overstreet said.

Four men in English vicarage are an American actor and actress, a cockney maid who has seen too many American movies, and an old maid who "touches alcohol for the first time in her life."

Four men in clerical suits also present the problem of which is funny. One is an escaped prisoner, and another a sedate bishop against all of the goings on and the trumped-up stories that are told him.

The American actress, Penelope, is married to the vicar of the local church, and Clive, an American soldier who once acted in a troupe with Penelope, discovers quite by accident that Penelope is "visiting" at the vicarage (he doesn't know that she's married), goes to see her on his afternoon off. The vicar is not in, though, and so they decide to go to a play in a neighboring town rather than stay in the house alone. Penelope is already an object of gossip. She wears slacks in town and is, in general, unconventional.

The theater is out of bounds for Clive, and he dresses in the vicar's second-best suit so that no one will know he's a soldier. Unfortunately, a Russian spy has escaped from his prison when Lionel, the vicar, returns home, the Russian knocks him unconscious, takes his clothes, and dresses in them himself in order to escape capture.

A bishop and another vicar arrive unexpectedly, compounding the confusion. Nobody any longer knows who anybody else is. But when Lionel regains consciousness he thinks he knows who attacked him and the chase is on in "See How They Run."

Said "Theater World" of an "apt title for an excellent farce of the most involved variety. Nor is there any variance anywhere in the admirably written play which does serve a long run for its rollicking good humor."

Sue Ellis portrays Miss Skilken, an American who despises Penelope for marrying the vicar. Ida, a cockney maid, is depicted by Bonnie Ringwald. Others in the cast include Claude Astin as the bishop, Curtis Anderson as Humphrey, Jack Smoot as a Russian spy, and Jim Deal as a policeman.

Farm and Family Features

Feed-grains are very important

By ROY POWELL, County Agent
FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

The Georgia corn or grain sorghum producer not signing up for the 1961 Feed Grain Program may miss out on several benefits.

State A-S-C Committee chairman W. H. Booth points out that non-cooperators won't be eligible for price supports on corn, grain, sorghum, oats, barley, or rye for the year.

This could be a pretty important factor considering the present huge surplus of feed grains. It will be risky for farmers to count on any increase in market prices of feed grains, Mr. Booth says. As cooperating growers receive payments which represent grain from Commodity Credit Corporation stocks, the grain becomes available for market and farm use and will compete with other feed grain of the market.

SOYBEAN ACREAGE

The conservation requirements must be met by Georgia soybean producers to qualify for 1961 support prices were outlined last week by William L. Lanier, Administrative Officer of the State A-S-C Office.

Lanier says producers will be required to maintain their 1959-60 average acreage of conserving and idle land on the farm in 1961 to qualify. Producers are urged not to increase soybean acreage at the expense of acreage now under conservation practices.

The 1961 price-support program seeks to insure that any additional soybean production will be on acreage used in the past for crops in abundant supply rather than from land now in conserving use or idle land.

The national average price for 1961 crop soybeans will be two-dollars, 30-cents a bushel. Last year's support price was $1.85.

ORNAMENTAL PLANTS

If you have ornamental plants around the home which die suddenly, check to see if it was caused by lack of water, injury to the trunk, or too much fertilizer.

These aren't all the possible causes, but they are the most common. Sometimes the trouble may be due to fungus or bacteria attacking the root system of the plant. Often a combination of fungi and nematodes will cause the plants to die.

A leakage of a gas main can cause sudden dying of trees, shrubs and grass. However, you'll soon know if this is the cause because several plants are usually killed by such gas leaks. The possibilities of difficulty caused by insects and diseases should also be considered.

SPRAYING FOR COTTON INSECT CONTROL

Spraying equipment can make cotton insect control a much easier job. But if your sprayer is not properly equipped, you can run into trouble.

The recommended sprayer for cotton insect control has a hollow cone type nozzle, not a fan spray. The sprayer should be able to operate at 60 pounds per square inch, and there should be three nozzles per row after plants are squaring freely and one per row in early stages.

Sprayers equipped and adjusted in this manner are giving excellent results when recommended insecticides are used at correct dosages. It is possible that other sizes of spray nozzles will give good coverage if adequate pressures are used. For best results the pressure should be increased about 10 pounds for each nozzle size increase. For example, to pump pressure with a No. 4 nozzle.

Using nozzle sizes larger than No. 3 requires more water per acre and does not improve control. With the recommended sprayer equipment, there is no loss of advantage in spraying 7 1/2 gallons total volume of spray per acre regardless of the size of cotton.

Spray patterns of dry drop buds with enough force to reach buds and squares are necessary for effective cotton insect control. If nozzles are set too close to the plants, the spray cone is broken before the spray pattern has had a chance to develop. Never let the nozzle drift through the plants.

Further information on spraying for cotton insect control can be obtained at the County Agent's office.

Choosing the right religion is a difficult and confusing problem. And millions of people, while professing belief in God, choose no church at all.

This "neutral" attitude is not, however, a good answer to the question of personal belief. It is to be honest with himself. If you are among these uncertain ones, it is not a good solution for you when you stop to consider that the eternal destiny of your soul may depend upon your choice. And for anyone raising a family, the decision is a matter of special concern.

If you should decide to seek the answer, we hope that you will ask yourself this one question: "Why am I not a Catholic?"

First of all, the answer to this question will reveal, among certain, that your ancestors were Catholics—that your forefathers worshipped in the historic Church which you as Catholic friends and neighbors all around you are still worshipping today.

It may be difficult for you to trace your "family tree" back far enough to discover when or why your forebears came to follow the historic Faith. It may have been in one of the years when the immigration of property and even death were among the penalties for holding true to the Faith. Possibly it happened during the sixteenth-century reformation against the Church. Or it might have been due to a marriage outside the Church, to a lack of religious interest, or even to some disagreement which you would instantly recognize as trivial.

Perhaps your answer to all this will be that you don't care what
